Date	Rank	Last Name	First Name	Command	Statement	Background
9-Feb-18	CDR	Wilson	Roy	USS Albany (SSN 753)	NORFOLK, Va. – Commander, Submarine Squadron Six, Capt. Carl Hartsfield, relieved the commanding officer of Los Angeles-class attack submarine USS Albany (SSN 753) on February 9, 2018, due to a loss of confidence in his ability to command.	FOUO//NOT FOR RELEASE: Commander, Submarine Squadron Six, Capt. Carl Hartsfield, relieved the commanding officer of Los Angeles-class attack submarine USS Albany (SSN 753), Cmdr. Roy Wilson, on February 9, 2018, due to a loss of confidence in his ability to command.  (b) (5)
					Cmdr. Roy Wilson, who took command of Albany on August 26, 2016, has been administratively reassigned to the staff of Commander, Submarine Force Atlantic.  Cmdr. Tom Aydt has assumed command of Albany until a permanent	(b) (5)
					Critical Total Ayot nas assumed command of Albany until a permanent replacement is named. Ayot previously commanded the USS Hartford (SSN 768), and is currently the Deputy Commander of Submarine Squadron Four.	Cmdr. Roy Wilson, who took command of Albany on August 26, 2016, has been administratively reassigned to the staff of Commander, Submarine Force Atlantic.  Cmdr. Tom Aydt has assumed command of Albany until a permanent replacement is named.
						Aydt previously commanded the USS Hartford (SSN 768), and is currently the Deputy Commander of Submarine Squadron Four.
12-Feb-18	CDR	Cho	James	Naval Mobile Construction Battalion (NMCB) 4	The command triad of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion (NMCB) FOUR was relieved of duty in Okinawa, Japan by Naval Construction Group (NCG) ONE Commodore, Capt. Mike Saum, on February 12, 2018, following an incident of personal misconduct by the executive officer, and the subsequent mishandling of that incident.	FOUO//NOT FOR RELEASE: Naval Construction Group (NCG) One Commodore, Capt. Mike Saum relieved the command triad of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion (NMCB) FOUR in Okinawa, Japan on February 12, 2018. The unit's executive officer was relieved due to personal misconduct. (b) (5)
					NMCB-4 Commanding Officer Cmdr. James Cho, Executive Officer Lt. Cmdr. Jason Gabbard, and Command Master Chief Jason Holden have been temporarily assigned to Naval Construction Group ONE in Port Hueneme, California.	(b) (5)
					Capt. Nick Yamodis will assume temporary duties as the NMCB-4 commanding officer until a permanent replacement is put in place.  NMCB-4, based in Port Hueneme, California, is currently operating in Olivious pages of the position despited for the property of the position.	The command triad was comprised of Commanding Officer Cmdr. James Cho, Executive Officer Lt. Cdr. Jason Gabbard, and Command Master Chief Jason Holden. NMCB-4, based in Port Hueneme, California, is currently operating in Okinawa as part of a routine deployment.  Capt. Nick Yamodis, CEC, will assume temporary duties as the NMCB-4 commanding officer
					Okinawa as part of a routine deployment to the region.	until the identified permanent replacement, (b) (5), (b) (6)
21-Feb-18	CDR	Rodriguez	Steven	Navy Recruiting District Houston	(b) (7)(A), (b) (6)	(b) (7)(A), (b) (6), (b) (5)

SAMERIA   DANS   Laber   Lab
Printje, relieved the commanding officer of USS Someraet (LPD 25), Capt. William Shernd, on April 12, 2018, due to a loss of confidence in his ability to command.  The relief is a result of an investigation into command climate concerns, and is not ted to one specific event.  Capt. Sherrod, who assumed command in November 2017, has been temporarily reassigned to the staff of Commander, Naval Art Forces. Capt. Sherrod had previously served as executive officer of Somerset since June 2018.  Capt. Brian Quin, Chief of Staff, ESG-3 has assumed temporary duties as commanding officer until a permanent relief is identified.  Capt. Brian Quin, Chief of Staff, ESG-3 has assumed temporary duties as commanding officer until a permanent relief is identified.  Capt. Brian Quin, Chief of Staff, ESG-3 has assumed temporary duties as commanding officer until a permanent relief is identified.  Capt. David Maritime NROTC  Capt. Heedong Chot. commanding officer of SUNY Maritime Callege's NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel, OMA 1993, 3 due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  SUNY Maritime NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel, OMA 1994, 3 due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  SUNY Maritime NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel, OMA 1994, 3 due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel (CNP) Vice Adm.  Robert Burke on May 3, due to loss of confidence in his ability to commanding officer of SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit at the U.S. Merchant Marine Chief Naval Personnel (Naval Personnel CNP) Vice Adm.  Chof David Naval Personnel (Naval Personnel CNP) Vice Adm.  Robert Burke on May 3, due to loss of confidence in his ability to commanding officer of SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel (Naval Personnel CNP) Vice Adm.  Robert Burke on May 3, due to loss of confid	23-Feb-18	CAPT	Doyon	George		Adm. Brad Cooper, relieved Amphibious Squadron (PH BRON) 11 Commander, Capt. George Doyon, and Deputy Commander, Capt. Jeff Oakey, on Feb. 23, 2018.  Capt. Doyon was relieved as a result of his mishandling of multiple staff complaints of harassment by Capt. Oakey over a year-long period. Capt. Oakey was relieved for substandard performance of duty.  Both officers have been assigned to temporary duty at Commander, Fleet Activities Sasebo.  A former PHIBRON 11 commander, Capt. Ed Thompson, assumed duties as acting commander. Thompson currently serves as deputy commander, ESG-7. Capt. Marc Boran, former deputy chief of staff for operations and plans at ESG-7, assumed duties as acting deputy commander at	(b) (6), (b) (5)
NROTC unit, was relieved by Adm. Robert Burke, Chief of Naval Personnel, on May 3 due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  (b) (5), (b) (7)(A)  Choi has been administratively reassigned to the NROTC unit at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York (DIGNOTO)  CAPT David Wright, the current commanding officer of Rutgers' NROTC unit, will assume the additional duties as the CO for SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit until a permanent relief is assigned.  Commanding officers are expected to uphold the highest standards of personal and professional conduct at all times. At a ROTC unit, meeting these high standards of conduct is critical to developing the military leaders	12-Apr-18	CAPT	Sherrod	William	USS Somerset (LPD 25)	Pringle, relieved the commanding officer of USS Somerset (LPD 25), Capt. William Sherrod, on April 12, 2018, due to a loss of confidence in his ability to command.  The relief is a result of an investigation into command climate concerns, and is not tied to one specific event.  Capt. Sherrod, who assumed command in November 2017, has been temporarily reassigned to the staff of Commander, Naval Air Forces. Capt. Sherrod had previously served as executive officer of Somerset since June 2016.  Capt. Brian Quin, Chief of Staff, ESG-3 has assumed temporary duties as
	3-May-18	CAPT	Choi	Heedong	SUNY Maritime NROTC	NROTC unit, was relieved by Adm. Robert Burke, Chief of Naval Personnel, on May 3 due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  (b) (5), (b) (7)(A)  Choi has been administratively reassigned to the NROTC unit at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York (b)(5)(b)(7)(A)  . CAPT David Wright, the current commanding officer of Rutgers' NROTC unit, will assume the additional duties as the CO for SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit until a permanent relief is assigned.  Commanding officers are expected to uphold the highest standards of personal and professional conduct at all times. At a ROTC unit, meeting these high standards of conduct is critical to developing the military leaders	College's NROTC unit, was relieved of his duties by Chief of Naval Personnel (CNP) Vice Adm. Robert Burke on May 3, due to loss of confidence in his ability to command.  Choi has been administratively reassigned to the NROTC unit at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. (b) (7)(A), (b) (5)  CAPT David Wright, the current commanding officer of Rutgers' NROTC unit, will assume the additional duties as the CO for SUNY Maritime College's NROTC unit until a permanent relief is assigned.
			1
			İ
			-
				1		I.	